Ever had that moment in a meeting where someone says something absolutely brilliant, and you think, "I really need to remember this"? Or maybe you're in a lecture when the professor perfectly explains a complex concept, and you wish you could bottle that explanation for later? Well, we heard you, and we've got something special up our sleeve!

Today, we're thrilled to introduce Hedy Highlights - your personal knowledge capture system that turns those "aha!" moments into lasting insights with just a single tap.

What is Hedy Highlights?

Think of Highlights as your always-alert research assistant who never misses a beat. During any Hedy session, just tap the star button when you hear something worth remembering. Hedy will automatically:

- Capture the context and relevant portion of the conversation
- Analyze the content for key insights
- Generate a clear, structured note in Zettelkasten style

- Save everything for easy future reference

But here's where it gets really interesting - Hedy doesn't just save what was said. Our AI analyzes each highlight to create:

- A clear, book-chapter-style title that captures the core concept
- A cleaned version of the original conversation that improves clarity while preserving meaning
- A distilled "main idea" that captures the essential insight in a single thought
- An analytical perspective that expands your understanding of the concept
